Attention: Mr. Louie Azzolini:

RE: Information Requests, Canadian Zinc Corporation (CZN).

This refers to the MVEIRB information requests (IR's) on the Draft Reclamation Costing Model for the Prairie Creek Minesite and the Surface Lease 'Overhold Tenancy'.

As you know, we have concerns about disclosure of the information requested due to provisions of the Access to Information Act or the Privacy Act (ATIP). To facilitate the resolution of the issue in a timely and efficient manner we opted to first seek advice from our ATIP co-ordinator, with respect to whether any information in our possession may be barred from being disclosed pursuant to the Act, instead of immediately requesting the MVEIRB to submit an application for the information. To further assist the MVEIRB, Mr. Paul Grundy, our legal counsel, had discussed with Mr. John Donihee, counsel for the MVEIRB, the most efficient way to resolve the issue.

We have now received a letter from Ms. Lynne Desjardins, DIAND's ATIP coordinator, to Mr. Grundy, indicating that, as the MVEIRB is an independent organization, her suggestion is that it should submit a formal request for the information, under ATIP. The application form and some background materials are attached for your convenience, should you wish to proceed in this manner.

I trust that this information is helpful.

Sincerely,

Mary Tapsell

This is further to your letter of August 16, 2001 addressed to the attention of Diane Leroux, Manager of Parliamentary Relations, Briefing Unit and ATIP Unit (INAC), in which you requested her office to review departmental records which were being sought by the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board. Since the Board is an independent organization, I would suggest they submit to our office a formal request under the Access to Information Act for those records of interest to the Board.

Please find attached an Access to Information Request Form for your reference.

Do not hesitate to contact Marc Bisaillon at (819) 997-1832, who will be pleased to address any concerns or questions you may have regarding this matter.

ATIP TIPS (Access to Information and Privacy)

Protection of personal information

Several complaints have been made to the Privacy Commissioner in the last year concerning DIAND officials disclosing personal information in contravention of the Privacy Act. One such complaint was deemed well-founded and the others are still subject to investigation. All employees and other parties representing the department must therefore be aware that:

- A) Personal information is any information about an identifiable individual. It includes any information that can be related to an individual by any means (e.g., by a number, a symbol, etc...). Without restricting the generality of the foregoing, personal information includes any views or opinions expressed by an individual and any correspondence that is implicitly or explicitly of a private or confidential nature.
- B) Personal information can only be disclosed with the consent of the individual to whom the information pertains or if the disclosure is permitted by one of the thirteen circumstances described in section 8 of the Privacy Act (see attached). Note that section 8 does not create an obligation to disclose but rather provides the department with the discretion to disclose.
- C) For more information on section 8 of the Privacy Act, you may contact your sector's or region's ATIP liaison officer, or the ATIP Office at (819) 994-0867. Disclosure includes letting someone see the information or verbally communicating the information. Disclosure includes one employee providing information to another employee within the department. It also includes providing information about a band member to a First Nation.
- D) The only personal information that is not subject to such protection is 1) information about an employee of the department that relates to the position or function as opposed to the individual; 2) information about an individual performing services under contract that relates to the services performed; 3) information about a discretionary (even though in some circumstances two individuals could be dealt with differently) benefit of a financial nature conferred upon an individual; and 4) information about an individual who has been dead more than 20 years.
- E) When in doubt as to whether information is personal information or as to whether disclosure is permitted, always protect the information.

Subsection 8(2) of the Privacy Act permits (does not require) the disclosure of personal, without the consent of the individual to whom it relates, under the following circumstances:

- a) for the purpose for which the information was obtained or compiled by the institution or for a use consistent with that purpose (e.g., disclosure to the complainant, during a grievance, of the views or opinions expressed by or alleged to have been expressed by the complainant about the accused; disclosure of certain estate information to heirs as required to settle the estate; disclosure of information about parents to an individual who applied for registration under the Indian Act);
- b) for any purpose in accordance with any Act of Parliament or any regulation made thereunder that authorizes its disclosure (e.g., disclosure to bands of additions or deletions to membership lists as prescribed by the Indian Act);
- c) for the purpose of complying with a subpoena or warrant issued or order made by a court, person or body with jurisdiction to compel the production of information or for the purpose of complying with rules of court relating to the production of information;
- d) to the Attorney General of Canada for use in legal proceedings involving the Crown in right of Canada or the Government of Canada (i.e., disclosure to our lawyers for litigation);
- e) to an investigative body specified in the regulations, on the written request of the body, for the purpose of enforcing any law of Canada or of a province or for carrying out a lawful investigation, if the request specifies the purpose and describes the information to be disclosed (e.g., disclosure to the RCMP);
- f) under an agreement or arrangement between the Government of Canada or an institution thereof and the government of a province, the government of a foreign state, an international organization established by the governments of states, or any institution of such a government or organization, for the purpose of administering or enforcing any law or carrying out a lawful investigation (e.g., disclosure of registry information to administer social services legislation);
- g) to a member of Parliament for the purpose of assisting the individual to whom the information relates in resolving a problem;
- h) to officers or employees of the institution for internal audit purposes, or to the office of the Comptroller General or any other person or body specified in the regulations for audit purposes;
- i) to the Public Archives for archival purposes;
- j) to any person or body for research or statistical purposes if the head of the government institution:
 - is satisfied that the purpose for which the information is disclosed cannot reasonably be accomplished unless the information is provided in a form that would identify the individual to whom it relates, and

- obtains from the person or body a written undertaking that no subsequent disclosure of the information will be made in a form that could reasonably be expected to identify the individual to whom it relates;
- k) to any association of aboriginal people, Indian band, government institution or part thereof, or to any person acting on behalf of such an association, band, institution or part thereof, for the purpose of researching or validating the claims, disputes or grievances of any of the aboriginal peoples of Canada (e.g., disclosure of paylists to bands to research land claims);
- l) to any government institution for the purpose of locating an individual in order to collect a debt owing to Her Majesty in right of Canada by that individual or make a payment owing to that individual by Her Majesty in right of Canada; and
- m) for any purpose where, in the opinion of the head of the institution, the public interest in disclosure clearly outweighs any invasion of privacy that could result from the disclosure, or if disclosure would clearly benefit the individual to whom the information relates.
 - Treasury Board policy sets out requirements for agreements under paragraph 8(2)(f) of the Act (f above); it also requires that research privileges under paragraph 8(2)(j) of the Act (j above) be withdrawn immediately if the researcher discloses personal information.
 - The Act requires that disclosures under paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Act (e above) be reported to Parliament (Annual Report) and that the Privacy Commissioner be notified of disclosures under paragraph 8(2)(m) of the Act (m above).
