Re: DeBeers Snap Lake Diamond Project Environmental Assessment

Thank you for your interest and participation in the DeBeers Snap Lake Diamond Project Environmental Assessment (EA).

On September 16, 2001, the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (Review Board) decided to apply its draft Rules of Procedure (they were known at that time as the "DeBeers Rules of Procedure") to the DeBeers Snap Lake Project. These rules will assist people with an interest in the EA of the proposed DeBeers diamond mine to participate in the Review Board's consideration of the development.

The DeBeers Rules of Procedure provide for three classes of participants in the Snap Lake EA depending on several factors, including how directly the proposed development affects a party's legal interests and how active a role the party wishes to play in the EA process. Persons or organizations who wanted to be involved in the EA were asked to contact the Review Board and advise as to whether they would be directly affected by the proposed DeBeers diamond mine, requested Intervener status, or wished only to be kept informed and to be able to participate informally in the EA process.

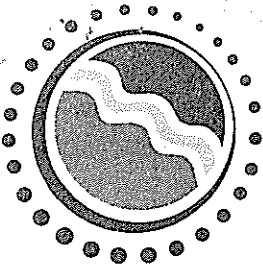

Thank you for contacting the Review Board and informing of your preferred standing in the EA. We are pleased to invite you to attend a public meeting scheduled for February 25, 2002 at 1 pm in the MVEIRB Board room, second floor Scotia Centre. The purpose of the meeting is to provide all parties direction and information regarding use of the Rules of Procedure, and to receive input on how the Review Board can best provide your organization with quality EA service.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
