2/10/2012 0:00	Robert Janes (JFK Law), legal counsel for DKFN	Telephone Call	DBC legal counsel and DKFN legal counsel discuss DBC proposed GK Community Workshop with the DKFN. DKFN raises concerns that unless meetings with elders are confidential, meetings involving elders and community will not proceed. DBC's position is that meetings with communities and elders should not be kept confidential as the engagement process needs to be transparent. DKFN notes that position of elders may not be same position on the Project as the Chief and Council and elders may be hesitant to raise concerns. DBC Legal Counsel advises he will seek instructions from DBC on how to proceed.

DKFN expresses interest in entering in to IBA and advises DBC that if DBC wants to engage in "formal consultation" then a meeting with Chief and Council with advisors and possibly others is the avenue. DKFN advises that no meetings with the community that are "on the record" may proceed at this time. DKFN indicates that a meeting involving the community may be allowed later once members have been briefed meeting with broader DKFN Community. DKFN raises concern that DBC has invited federal government reps to DBC community meetings. DKFN follows up with DBC on response to proposal.

3/6/2012 12:50	Linda VandenBerg, consultant for DKFN; Robert Janes, legal counsel for DKFN	Telephone Call	DBC referenced the Panel TOR and the need for the proposal to follow the MVEIRB guidelines for incorporating TK into assessment. DBC outlined that the information provided by DKFN would be reviewed by DBC to validate impact predictions and that recommendations in the study regarding mitigation of potential impacts and incorporation of TK into the Project were a requirement to proceed. DKFN indicated they were incorporating into the proposal an ethnohistory to demonstrate continued use in the Project Area. DKFN confirmed the proposal would involve interviewing elders and the questions would be shared with DBC in advance. Timelines for the study were discussed and DBC noted some of the scope of the study was outside of what DBC required and this needed to be taken out and the budget reduced. DBC committed to sending written feedback for next steps.

Tlicho Government	3/15/2012 0:00	Ginger Gibson, John Nishi, Kerri Garner, and John B. Zoe	Meeting	Purpose was to review and discuss Information Requests. Outcomes were: 1. Regional monitoring studies need to identify the response variables (quantitative and qualitative) and the data required to effectively measure the variables. For example, analysis of caribou response to winter roads would require different number of collared caribou and frequency of locations than estimates of adult survival rate. Need to be able to convey this type of information regarding objectives, response variables (measurement endpoints), study designs, and sampling methods to the communities. 2) Need to incorporate local knowledge into monitoring studies and engage communities in the design of studies. YKDFN	7/28/2012 0:00	Michael McDonald, negotiator for YKDFN	Letter	YKDFN acknowledges provision of a TK Study Agreement Term Sheet sent by DBC . YKDFN Negotiator indicates YKDFN does not agree with the terms and YKDFN position is that a TK Study must be part of a Funding Agreement with DBC for YKDFN's participation in the EIR.
YKDFN	8/2/2011 11:00	Chief Edward Sangris, YKDFN	Telephone Call	DBC received voice mail from YKDFN August 2nd requesting meeting. DBC returns call - reaches cell and advises available that afternoon to meet.
YKDFN	8/2/2012 16:00	Chief Edward Sangris, YKDFN	Meeting	DBC discussed company's position on funding participation of participants in the EIR process and confirms the YKDFN have access to funding through AANDC and that the company funds YKDFN engagement with the company directly. DBC notes it requires a TK Study Agreement to be stand-alone agreement and not linked into any other negotiation agreements and reaffirms desire to see TK Study proceed. DBC notes the issue that is keeping YKDFN and DBC apart on proceeding with TK Study is that YKDFN is insisting on tying TK Study to EIR Funding Agreement and DBC will not be funding YKDFN participation in the EIR.
