

March 9, 2022

Chief April Martel
Kát'odeeche First Nation
P.O BOX 3060
HAY RIVER NT X0E 1G4

Governments' approach to Aboriginal consultation
for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine

Dear Chief Martel,

The Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) and the Government of Canada (Canada) are writing to clarify how we are discharging the duty to consult for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine (Project). The Project is currently undergoing an environmental assessment by the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (Review Board). This letter is in follow-up to the letters that the GNWT and Canada sent you on February 5, 2021.

The GNWT and Canada relies on the Review Board process – we would like to hear from you

The GNWT and Canada generally do not carry out separate consultation activities while an environmental assessment is ongoing – we rely on the Review Board's process.

One of the reasons the GNWT and Canada do not carry out consultation separate from the Review Board's process is because the Review Board's co-management process is designed to support your participation and the participation of other potentially affected Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. There are multiple opportunities during the environmental assessment for you to provide your insights and knowledge regarding the potential impacts of the Project, including potential adverse impacts to your asserted or established Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights. The scope of the Review Board's assessment is broad, and includes consideration of:

- The well-being of communities and residents in the Mackenzie Valley;
- The well-being and way of life of Indigenous peoples; and
- The concerns of Indigenous peoples and the public.

When you describe potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights to the Review Board, the Review Board considers them in their assessment of potential project impacts. If the Review Board concludes that there will likely be a significant adverse impact on the environment without mitigation, the Review Board will identify measures to mitigate those impacts. The GNWT and Canada, through their participation in the Review Board's process, first hears and tracks any concerns you raise. The GNWT and Canada then assess the adequacy of the proposed mitigations. The assessment is to determine if the GNWT and Canada believes the duty to consult has been discharged prior to the governments' decision on the Project.

.../2

GNWT and Canada's participation in the Review Board process

Both the GNWT and Canada actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process. We participate for two main reasons: to provide expert technical advice, and to understand your issues and concerns. The Review Board's process provides the GNWT and Canada with opportunities to consider information related to Indigenous peoples' concerns and potential adverse impacts to Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights. Specifically, we are looking for you to:

1. Provide evidence to the Review Board, including Indigenous and Traditional Knowledge, that describes any potential adverse impacts from the Project that you believe are important for the Review Board, the GNWT, Canada, and the developer to hear.
2. Indicate whether you believe those impacts will affect your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights, including:
 - a. The Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights that may be impacted;
 - b. The potential adverse impacts of the Project on those rights; and,
 - c. Any mitigations you can suggest to address those potential adverse impacts.

Aboriginal consultation and government decision making – how we use what we hear

From the start of an environmental assessment to a decision regarding the Review Board's recommendation by the responsible ministers, the steps the GNWT and Canada take for Aboriginal consultation typically include:

1. Notification Letter: Sending Aboriginal consultation notification letters to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations, encouraging you to participate in the Review Board's process.
2. Tracking and Assessing Indigenous Concerns: Throughout the process, the GNWT and Canada listen to and track concerns raised by Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. We track these concerns so that we can assess whether we are confident the commitments from the developer, mitigative measures recommended by the Review Board, and existing government programs address the potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights. We complete this assessment before any decision is made by responsible ministers.
3. Request Input on Recommendation: After the Review Board releases its Report of Environmental Assessment and Reasons for Decision (the Report) (but before a decision is made), we again reach out to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations via a letter. This letter requests your views on the potential adverse impacts of the Project on your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights, after the implementation of mitigations included in the Report. Your response to our letters, help inform us. There is also the ability for you to meet with government before the decision is made, to discuss your views on mitigations.
4. Decision by Responsible Ministers: Responsible ministers must be confident that any potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights will be mitigated or accommodated before a decision is made. Your input on the recommendation is important for the GNWT and Canada.
5. Follow-up and Reasons for Decision by Ministers: Once the decision has been made, we will again write to you. This letter will respond to any concerns that you raised in response to the letter that the GNWT and Canada send you after the Report. The letter will also provide reasons for the decision made by the responsible ministers.

Encouragement for participating in the environmental assessment

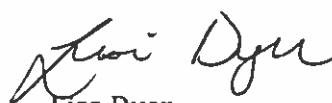

The GNWT and Canada respectfully encourage you to actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process for Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed project. To support meaningful and informed participation in the environmental assessment of the Project, Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada has provided multiyear funding to 12 recipients who were approved through the proposal-based Northern Participant Funding Program. The GNWT's Department of Environmental and Natural Resources also provides more general funding to qualifying applicants that can be used to help participate in the environmental assessment process through the Interim Resource Management Assistance program. It is our hope that you will provide the Review Board with all the information it will need to assess the Project, and how the Project might potentially adversely impact your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights and interests.

For any questions or clarification regarding this letter, please reach out to Aswathy Mary Varghese, Project Assessment Analyst, GNWT at 867-767-9180 ext. 24024 or ash_varghese@gov.nt.ca, or Katie Bakker, Project Manager, Canada at 867-765-8057 or Kaitlyn.Bakker2@canada.ca.

Sincerely,

Lorraine Seale
Director, Securities and Project Assessment
Lands
Government of the Northwest Territories

Lisa Dyer
Director General
Northern Projects Management Office
Government of Canada

c. Distribution List

Honourable Caroline Cochrane
Premier

Shaleen Woodward
Principal Secretary

Martin Goldney
Secretary to Cabinet/Deputy Minister
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Jamie Koe
Deputy Minister
Lands

Shawn McCann
Deputy Secretary, Indigenous and Intergovernmental Affairs
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Paul Squires
Chief Executive Officer
Kát'odeeche First Nation

JoAnne Deneron
Chairperson
Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board

Jeff Hussey
President and COO
Pine Point Mining Ltd. and Osisko Metals

Joanna Ankersmit
Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Matthew Spence
Regional Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Tom Hoggarth
Director General
Fisheries and Oceans Canada

Mary Taylor
Director General, Environmental Protection Operations Directorate
Environment and Climate Change Canada

Rinaldo Jeanty
Director General
Natural Resources Canada

Jonah Mitchell
Field Unit Superintendent, Southwest NWT Field Unit
Parks Canada

Anita Champagne-Gudmundson
Regional Manager, Environmental Programs
Transport Canada

Brenda Woo
Regional Manager, Environmental Health Program
Health Canada

March 9, 2022

Chief Louis Balsillie and Band Council
Łutselk'e Dene First Nation
PO BOX 279
FORT RESOLUTION NT X0E 0M0

Chief Darryl Marlowe and Band Council
Denínu Kúé First Nation
PO BOX 28
ŁUTSELK'E NT X0E 1A0

Chief Edward Sangris and Band Council
Yellowknives Dene First Nation Ndilq
PO BOX 2514
YELLOWKNIFE NT X1A 2P8

Chief Fred Sangris and Band Council
Yellowknives Dene First Nation Dettah
PO BOX 2514
YELLOWKNIFE NT X1A 2P8

Dear Chief Balsillie, Chief Edward Sangris, Chief Marlowe, Chief Fred Sangris and Band Council:

Governments' approach to Aboriginal Consultation
for the Environmental Assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s Proposed Pine Point Mine

The Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) and the Government of Canada (Canada) are writing to clarify how we are discharging the duty to consult for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine (Project). The Project is currently undergoing an environmental assessment by the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (Review Board). This letter is in follow-up to the letters that the GNWT and Canada sent you on February 5, 2021.

The GNWT and Canada relies on the Review Board process – we would like to hear from you.
The GNWT and Canada generally do not carry out separate consultation activities while an environmental assessment is ongoing – we rely on the Review Board's process.

One of the reasons the GNWT and Canada do not carry out consultation separate from the Review Board's process is because the Review Board's co-management process is designed to support your participation and the participation of other potentially affected Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. There are multiple opportunities during the environmental assessment for you to provide your insights and knowledge regarding the potential impacts of the Project, including potential adverse impacts to your asserted or established Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights.

The scope of the Review Board's assessment is broad, and includes consideration of:

- The well-being of communities and residents in the Mackenzie Valley;
- The well-being and way of life of Indigenous peoples; and
- The concerns of Indigenous peoples and the public.

When you describe potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights to the Review Board, the Review Board considers them in their assessment of potential project impacts. If the Review Board concludes that there will likely be a significant adverse impact on the environment without mitigation, the Review Board will identify measures to mitigate those impacts. The GNWT and Canada, through their participation in the Review Board's process, first hears and tracks any concerns you raise. The GNWT and Canada then assess the adequacy of the proposed mitigations. The assessment is to determine if the GNWT and Canada believes the duty to consult has been discharged prior to the governments' decision on the Project.

GNWT and Canada's participation in the Review Board process

Both the GNWT and Canada actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process. We participate for two main reasons: to provide expert technical advice, and to understand your issues and concerns. The Review Board's process provides the GNWT and Canada with opportunities to consider information related to Indigenous peoples' concerns and potential adverse impacts to Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights. Specifically, we are looking for you to:

1. Provide evidence to the Review Board, including Indigenous and Traditional Knowledge, that describes any potential adverse impacts from the Project that you believe are important for the Review Board, the GNWT, Canada, and the developer to hear.
2. Indicate whether you believe those impacts will affect your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights, including:
 - a. The Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights that may be impacted;
 - b. The potential adverse impacts of the Project on those Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights; and,
 - c. Any mitigations you can suggest to address those potential adverse impacts.

Aboriginal consultation and government decision making – how we use what we hear

From the start of an environmental assessment to a decision regarding the Review Board's recommendation by the responsible ministers, the steps the GNWT and Canada take for Aboriginal consultation typically include:

1. Notification Letter: Sending Aboriginal consultation notification letters to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations, encouraging you to participate in the Review Board's process.
2. Tracking and Assessing Indigenous Concerns: Throughout the process, the GNWT and Canada listen to, and track concerns raised by Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. We track these concerns so that we can assess whether we are confident the commitments from the developer, mitigative measures recommended by the Review Board, and existing government programs address the potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights. We complete this assessment before any decision is made by responsible ministers.
3. Request Input on Recommendation: After the Review Board releases its Report of Environmental Assessment and Reasons for Decision (Report) (but before a decision is made), we again reach out to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations via a letter.

This letter requests your views on the potential adverse impacts of the Project on your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights, after the implementation of mitigations included in the Report. Your response to our letters, help inform us. There is also the ability for you to meet with government before the decision is made, to discuss your views on mitigations.

4. Decision by Responsible Ministers: Responsible ministers must be confident that any potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights will be mitigated or accommodated before a decision is made. Your input on the recommendation is important for the GNWT and Canada.
5. Follow-up and Reasons for Decision by Ministers: Once the decision has been made, we will again write to you. This letter will respond to any concerns that you raised in response to the letter that the GNWT and Canada send you after the Report. The letter will also provide reasons for the decision made by the responsible ministers.

Encouragement for participating in the environmental assessment

The GNWT and Canada respectfully encourage you to actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process for Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed project. To support meaningful and informed participation in the environmental assessment of the Project, Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada has provided multiyear funding to 12 recipients who were approved through the proposal-based Northern Participant Funding Program. The GNWT's Department of Environmental and Natural Resources also provides more general funding to qualifying applicants that can be used to help participate in the environmental assessment process through the Interim Resource Management Assistance Program. It is our hope that you will provide the Review Board with all the information it will need to assess the Project, and how the Project might potentially adversely impact your rights and interests.

For any questions or clarification regarding this letter, please reach out to Aswathy Mary Varghese, Project Assessment Analyst, GNWT at 867-767-9180 ext. 24024 or ash.varghese@gov.nt.ca, or Katie Bakker, Project Manager, Canada at 867-765-8057 or Kaitlyn.Bakker2@canada.ca.

Sincerely,

Lorraine Seale
Director, Securities and Project Assessment
Lands
Government of the Northwest Territories

Lisa Dyer
Director General
Northern Projects Management Office
Government of Canada

c. Distribution List

Honourable Caroline Cochrane
Premier

Shaleen Woodward
Principal Secretary

Martin Goldney
Secretary to Cabinet/Deputy Minister
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Jamie Koe
Deputy Minister
Lands

Shawn McCann
Deputy Secretary, Indigenous and Intergovernmental Affairs
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Ethel Liske
ADFN Negotiations Coordinator
Akaitcho Dene First Nations

Carol Ann Chaplin
Senior Administrative Officer
Denínu Kúé First Nation

Lucy Sanderson
Acting Senior Administrative Officer
Łutselk'e Dene First Nation

Lena Black
Chief Executive Officer
Yellowknives Dene First Nation

Annie Boucher
Executive Director
Akaitcho Territory Government

JoAnne Deneron
Chairperson
Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board

Jeff Hussey
President and COO
Pine Point Mining Ltd. and Osisko Metals

Joanna Ankersmit
Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Tom Hoggarth
Director General
Fisheries and Oceans Canada

Mary Taylor
Director General, Environmental Protection Operations Directorate
Environment and Climate Change Canada

Rinaldo Jeanty
Director General
Natural Resources Canada

Jonah Mitchell
Field Unit Superintendent
Southwest NWT Field Unit

Anita Champagne-Gudmundson
Regional Manager, Environmental Programs
Transport Canada

Matthew Spence
Regional Director General
Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Brenda Woo
Regional Manager, Environmental Health Program
Health Canada

March 9, 2022

President Garry Bailey
Northwest Territory Métis Nation
P.O. BOX 720
FORT SMITH NT X0E 0P0

President Allan Heron
Fort Smith Métis Council
P.O. BOX 1107
FORT SMITH NT X0E 0P0

President Arthur Beck
Fort Resolution Métis Government
P.O. BOX 137
FORT RESOLUTION NT X0E

President Trevor Beck
Hay River Métis Government Council
10 Industrial Drive
HAY RIVER NT X0E 0R6

Dear President Bailey, President Arthur Beck, President Heron, and President Trevor Beck:

Governments' approach to Aboriginal consultation
for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine.

The Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) and the Government of Canada (Canada) are writing to clarify how we are discharging the duty to consult for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine (Project). The Project is currently undergoing an environmental assessment by the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (Review Board). This letter is in follow-up to the letters that the GNWT and Canada sent you on February 5, 2021.

The GNWT and Canada relies on the Review Board process – we would like to hear from you
The GNWT and Canada generally do not carry out separate consultation activities while an environmental assessment is ongoing – we rely on the Review Board's process.

One of the reasons the GNWT and Canada do not carry out consultation separate from the Review Board's process is because the Review Board's co-management process is designed to support your participation and the participation of other potentially affected Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations.

There are multiple opportunities during the environmental assessment for you to provide your insights and knowledge regarding the potential impacts of the Project, including potential adverse impacts to your asserted or established Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. The scope of the Review Board's assessment is broad, and includes consideration of:

- The well-being of communities and residents in the Mackenzie Valley;
- The well-being and way of life of Indigenous peoples; and
- The concerns of Indigenous peoples and the public.

When you describe potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights to the Review Board, the Review Board considers them in their assessment of potential project impacts. If the Review Board concludes that there will likely be a significant adverse impact on the environment without mitigation, the Review Board will identify measures to mitigate those impacts. The GNWT and Canada, through their participation in the Review Board's process, first hears and tracks any concerns you raise. The GNWT and Canada then assess the adequacy of the proposed mitigations. The assessment is to determine if the GNWT and Canada believes the duty to consult has been discharged prior to the governments' decision on the Project.

GNWT and Canada's participation in the Review Board process

Both the GNWT and Canada actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process. We participate for two main reasons: to provide expert technical advice, and to understand your issues and concerns. The Review Board's process provides the GNWT and Canada with opportunities to consider information related to Indigenous peoples' concerns and potential adverse impacts to Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. Specifically, we are looking for you to:

1. Provide evidence to the Review Board, including Indigenous and Traditional Knowledge, that describes any potential adverse impacts from the Project that you believe are important for the Review Board, the GNWT, Canada, and the developer to hear.
2. Indicate whether you believe those impacts will affect your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, including:
 - a. The Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights that may be impacted;
 - b. The potential adverse impacts of the Project on those Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights; and,
 - c. Any mitigations you can suggest to address those potential adverse impacts.

Aboriginal consultation and government decision making – how we use what we hear

From the start of an environmental assessment to a decision regarding the Review Board's recommendation by the responsible ministers, the steps the GNWT and Canada take for Aboriginal consultation typically include:

1. Notification Letter: Sending Aboriginal consultation notification letters to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations, encouraging you to participate in the Review Board's process.
2. Tracking and Assessing Indigenous Concerns: Throughout the process, the GNWT and Canada listen to and track concerns raised by Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. We track these concerns so that we can assess whether we are confident the commitments from the developer, mitigative measures recommended by the Review Board, and existing government programs address the potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. We complete this assessment before any decision is made by responsible ministers.
3. Request Input on Recommendation: After the Review Board releases its Report of Environmental Assessment and Reasons for Decision (the Report) (but before a decision is made), we again reach out to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations via a letter.

This letter requests your views on the potential adverse impacts of the Project on your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, after the implementation of mitigations included in the Report. Your response to our letters, help inform us.

There is also the ability for you to meet with government before the decision is made, to discuss your views on mitigations.

4. Decision by Responsible Ministers: Responsible ministers must be confident that any potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights will be mitigated or accommodated before a decision is made. Your input on the recommendation is important for the GNWT and Canada.
5. Follow-up and Reasons for Decision by Ministers: Once the decision has been made, we will again write to you. This letter will respond to any concerns that you raised in response to the letter that the GNWT and Canada send you after the Report. The letter will also provide reasons for the decision made by the responsible ministers.

Encouragement for participating in the environmental assessment

The GNWT and Canada respectfully encourage you to actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process for Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed project. To support meaningful and informed participation in the environmental assessment of the Project, Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada has provided multiyear funding to 12 recipients who were approved through the proposal-based Northern Participant Funding Program. The GNWT's Department of Environmental and Natural Resources also provides more general funding to qualifying applicants that can be used to help participate in the environmental assessment process through the Interim Resource Management Assistance program. It is our hope that you will provide the Review Board with all the information it will need to assess the Project, and how the Project might potentially adversely impact your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights and interests.

For any questions or clarification regarding this letter, please reach out to Aswathy Mary Varghese, Project Assessment Analyst, GNWT at 867-767-9180 ext. 24024 or ash_varghese@gov.nt.ca, or Katie Bakker, Project Manager, Canada at 867-765-8057 or Kaitlyn.Bakker2@canada.ca.

Sincerely,

Lorraine Seale
Director, Securities and Project Assessment
Lands
Government of the Northwest Territories

Lisa Dyer
Director General
Northern Projects Management Office
Government of Canada

c. Distribution List

Honourable Caroline Cochrane
Premier

Shaleen Woodward
Principal Secretary

Martin Goldney
Secretary to Cabinet/Deputy Minister
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Jamie Koe
Deputy Minister
Lands

Shawn McCann
Deputy Secretary, Indigenous and Intergovernmental Affairs
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Ursula Vogt
Executive Director
Northwest Territory Métis Nation

Sherry Strand
Office Manager
Fort Resolution Métis Government

Linda Piwowar
Finance Manager
Hay River Métis Government Council

JoAnne Deneron
Chairperson
Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board

Jeff Hussey
President and COO
Pine Point Mining Ltd. and Osisko Metals

Joanna Ankersmit
Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Matthew Spence
Regional Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Tom Hoggarth
Director General
Fisheries and Oceans Canada

Mary Taylor
Director General, Environmental Protection Operations Directorate
Environment and Climate Change Canada

Rinaldo Jeanty
Director General
Natural Resources Canada

Jonah Mitchell
Field Unit Superintendent, Southwest NWT Field Unit
Parks Canada

Anita Champagne-Gudmundson
Regional Manager, Environmental Programs
Transport Canada

Brenda Woo
Regional Manager, Environmental Health Program
Health Canada

March 9, 2022

Dear Dehcho First Nation Chiefs/Presidents,

Governments' Approach to Aboriginal Consultation
for the Environmental Assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine

The Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) and the Government of Canada (Canada) are writing to clarify how we are discharging the duty to consult for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine (Project). The Project is currently undergoing an environmental assessment by the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (Review Board). This letter is in follow-up to the letters that the GNWT and Canada sent you on February 5, 2021.

The GNWT and Canada relies on the Review Board process – we would like to hear from you
The GNWT and Canada generally do not carry out separate consultation activities while an environmental assessment is ongoing – we rely on the Review Board's process.

One of the reasons the GNWT and Canada do not carry out consultation separate from the Review Board's process is because the Review Board's co-management process is designed to support your participation and the participation of other potentially affected Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. There are multiple opportunities during the environmental assessment for you to provide your insights and knowledge regarding the potential impacts of the Project, including potential adverse impacts to your asserted or established Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. The scope of the Review Board's assessment is broad, and includes consideration of:

- The well-being of communities and residents in the Mackenzie Valley;
- The well-being and way of life of Indigenous peoples; and
- The concerns of Indigenous peoples and the public.

When you describe potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights to the Review Board, the Review Board considers them in their assessment of potential project impacts. If the Review Board concludes that there will likely be a significant adverse impact on the environment without mitigation, the Review Board will identify measures to mitigate those impacts. The GNWT and Canada, through their participation in the Review Board's process, first hears and tracks any concerns you raise. The GNWT and Canada then assess the adequacy of the proposed mitigations. The assessment is to determine if the GNWT and Canada believes the duty to consult has been discharged prior to the governments' decision on the Project.

GNWT and Canada's participation in the Review Board process

Both the GNWT and Canada actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process. We participate for two main reasons: to provide expert technical advice, and to understand your issues and concerns.

The Review Board's process provides the GNWT and Canada with opportunities to consider information related to Indigenous peoples' concerns and potential adverse impacts to Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. Specifically, we are looking for you to:

1. Provide evidence to the Review Board, including Indigenous and Traditional Knowledge, that describes any potential adverse impacts from the Project that you believe are important for the Review Board, the GNWT, Canada, and the developer to hear.
2. Indicate whether you believe those impacts will affect your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, including:
 - a. The Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights that may be impacted;
 - b. The potential adverse impacts of the Project on those Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights; and,
 - c. Any mitigations you can suggest to address those potential adverse impacts.

Aboriginal consultation and government decision making – how we use what we hear

From the start of an environmental assessment to a decision regarding the Review Board's recommendation by the responsible ministers, the steps the GNWT and Canada take for Aboriginal consultation typically include:

1. Notification Letter: Sending Aboriginal consultation notification letters to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations, encouraging you to participate in the Review Board's process.
2. Tracking and Assessing Indigenous Concerns: Throughout the process, the GNWT and Canada listen to, and track concerns raised by Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. We track these concerns so that we can assess whether we are confident the commitments from the developer, mitigative measures recommended by the Review Board, and existing government programs address the potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. We complete this assessment before any decision is made by responsible ministers.
3. Request Input on Recommendation: After the Review Board releases its Report of Environmental Assessment and Reasons for Decision (the Report) (but before a decision is made), we again reach out to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations via a letter. This letter requests your views on the potential adverse impacts of the Project on your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, after the implementation of mitigations included in the Report. Your response to our letters, help inform us. There is also the ability for you to meet with government before the decision is made, to discuss your views on mitigations.
4. Decision by Responsible Ministers: Responsible ministers must be confident that any potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights will be mitigated or accommodated before a decision is made. Your input on the recommendation is important for the GNWT and Canada.
5. Follow-up and Reasons for Decision by Ministers: Once the decision has been made, we will again write to you. This letter will respond to any concerns that you raised in response to the letter that the GNWT and Canada send you after the Report. The letter will also provide reasons for the decision made by the responsible ministers.

Encouragement for participating in the environmental assessment

The GNWT and Canada respectfully encourage you to actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process for Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed project. To support meaningful and informed participation in the environmental assessment of the Project, Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada has provided multiyear funding to 12 recipients who were approved through the proposal-based Northern Participant Funding Program.

The GNWT's Department of Environmental and Natural Resources also provides more general funding to qualifying applicants that can be used to help participate in the environmental assessment process through the Interim Resource Management Assistance program. It is our hope that you will provide the Review Board with all the information it will need to assess the Project, and how the Project might potentially adversely impact your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights and interests.

For any questions or clarification regarding this letter, please reach out to Aswathy Mary Varghese (Project Assessment Analyst, GNWT) at 867-767-9180 ext. 24024 or ash_varghese@gov.nt.ca, or Katie Bakker (Project Manager, Canada) at 867-765-8057 or Kaitlyn.Bakker2@canada.ca.

Sincerely,

Lorraine Seale
Director, Securities and Project Assessment
Lands
Government of the Northwest Territories

Lisa Dyer
Director General
Northern Projects Management Office
Government of Canada

c. Dehcho First Nation Chiefs/Presidents

Grand Chief
Dehcho First Nations
P.O. BOX 89
FORT SIMPSON NT X0E 0N0

Chief Michael Vandell
Deh Gáh Got'ie First Nation
P.O. BOX 200
FORT PROVIDENCE NT X0E 0L0

President Clifford McLeod
Fort Providence Métis Council
P.O. BOX 319
FORT PROVIDENCE NT X0E 0L0

President Darlene Sibbeston
Fort Simpson Métis Local #52
P.O. BOX 408
FORT SIMPSON NT X0E 0N0

Chief Kele Antoine
Łíídlı́ Kúé First Nation
P.O. BOX 469
FORT SIMPSON NT X0E 0N0

Chief Lloyd Chicot
Ka'a'gee Tu First Nation
P.O. BOX 4428
HAY RIVER NT X0E 1G3

Chief Kenneth Cayen
West Point First Nation
1-47031 MACKENZIE HIGHWAY
HAY RIVER NT X0E 0R9

Chief Noleen Hardisty
Jean Marie River First Nation
GENERAL DELIVERY
JEAN MARIE RIVER NT X0E 0N0

Chief Dolphus Jumbo
Sambaa K'e First Nation
P.O. BOX 10
SAMBAA K'E NT X0E 1Z0

Chief Lloyd Moses
Pehdzéh Kí First Nation
P.O. BOX 56
WRIGLEY NT X0E 1E0

Chief Steve Vital
Nahanni Butte Dene Band
GENERAL DELIVERY
NAHANNI BUTTE NT X0E 0N0

c. Distribution List

Honourable Caroline Cochrane
Premier

Shaleen Woodward
Principal Secretary

Martin Goldney
Secretary to Cabinet/Deputy Minister
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Jamie Koe
Deputy Minister
Lands

Shawn McCann
Deputy Secretary, Indigenous and Intergovernmental Affairs
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Alison de Pelham
Executive Director
Dehcho First Nations

JoAnne Deneron
Chairperson
Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board

Greg Nyuli
Executive Director
Deh Gáh Got'ie First Nation

Pearl Leishhan
Executive Director
Fort Providence Métis Council

Lisa Lafferty
Executive Director
The Métis Association Local #52

Liza McPherson
Executive Director
Łíídlı́ Kúé First Nation

Ruby Simba
Council Manager
Ka'a'gee Tu First Nation

Wendy Ross
Band Manager
West Point First Nation

Brad Morissey
Senior Administrative Officer
Jean Marie First Nation

Ruby Jumbo
Band manager
Sambaa K'e First Nation

Kyle Clille
Band Manager
Pehdzéh Kí First Nation

Soham Srimani
Acting Band Manager
Nahanni Butte Dene Band

Jeff Hussey
President and COO
Pine Point Mining Ltd. and Osisko Metals

Joanna Ankersmit
Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Tom Hoggarth
Director General
Fisheries and Oceans Canada

Mary Taylor
Director General, Environmental Protection Operations Directorate
Environment and Climate Change Canada

Rinaldo Jeanty
Director General
Natural Resources Canada

Jonah Mitchell
Field Unit Superintendent
Southwest NWT Field Unit

Anita Champagne-Gudmundson
Regional Manager, Environmental Programs
Transport Canada

Matthew Spence
Regional Director General
Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Brenda Woo
Regional Manager, Environmental Health Program
Health Canada

March 9, 2022

Chief Gerry Cheezie
Smith's Landing First Nation
P.O. BOX 1470
FORT SMITH NT X0E 0P0

Dear Chief Cheezie,

Governments' approach to Aboriginal consultation
for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine

The Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) and the Government of Canada (Canada) are writing to clarify how we are discharging the duty to consult for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine (Project). The Project is currently undergoing an environmental assessment by the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (Review Board). This letter is in follow-up to the letters that the GNWT and Canada sent you on February 5, 2021.

The GNWT and Canada relies on the Review Board process – we would like to hear from you

The GNWT and Canada generally do not carry out separate consultation activities while an environmental assessment is ongoing – we rely on the Review Board's process.

One of the reasons the GNWT and Canada do not carry out consultation separate from the Review Board's process is because the Review Board's co-management process is designed to support your participation and the participation of other potentially affected Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. There are multiple opportunities during the environmental assessment for you to provide your insights and knowledge regarding the potential impacts of the Project, including potential adverse impacts to your asserted or established Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. The scope of the Review Board's assessment is broad, and includes consideration of:

- The well-being of communities and residents in the Mackenzie Valley;
- The well-being and way of life of Indigenous peoples; and
- The concerns of Indigenous peoples and the public.

When you describe potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights to the Review Board, the Review Board considers them in their assessment of potential project impacts. If the Review Board concludes that there will likely be a significant adverse impact on the environment without mitigation, the Review Board will identify measures to mitigate those impacts. The GNWT and Canada, through their participation in the Review Board's process, first hears and tracks any concerns you raise. The GNWT and Canada then assess the adequacy of the proposed mitigations.

.../2

The assessment is to determine if the GNWT and Canada believes the duty to consult has been discharged prior to the governments' decision on the Project.

GNWT and Canada's participation in the Review Board process

Both the GNWT and Canada actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process. We participate for two main reasons: to provide expert technical advice, and to understand your issues and concerns. The Review Board's process provides the GNWT and Canada with opportunities to consider information related to Indigenous peoples' concerns and potential adverse impacts to Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. Specifically, we are looking for you to:

1. Provide evidence to the Review Board, including Indigenous and Traditional Knowledge, that describes any potential adverse impacts from the Project that you believe are important for the Review Board, the GNWT, Canada, and the developer to hear.
2. Indicate whether you believe those impacts will affect your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, including:
 - a. The Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights that may be impacted;
 - b. The potential adverse impacts of the Project on those Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights; and,
 - c. Any mitigations you can suggest to address those potential adverse impacts.

Aboriginal consultation and government decision making – how we use what we hear

From the start of an environmental assessment to a decision regarding the Review Board's recommendation by the responsible ministers, the steps the GNWT and Canada take for Aboriginal consultation typically include:

1. Notification Letter: Sending Aboriginal consultation notification letters to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations, encouraging you to participate in the Review Board's process.
2. Tracking and Assessing Indigenous Concerns: Throughout the process, the GNWT and Canada listen to and track concerns raised by Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. We track these concerns so that we can assess whether we are confident the commitments from the developer, mitigative measures recommended by the Review Board, and existing government programs address the potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. We complete this assessment before any decision is made by responsible ministers.
3. Request Input on Recommendation: After the Review Board releases its Report of Environmental Assessment and Reasons for Decision (the Report) (but before a decision is made), we again reach out to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations via a letter. This letter requests your views on the potential adverse impacts of the Project on your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, after the implementation of mitigations included in the Report. Your response to our letters, help inform us. There is also the ability for you to meet with government before the decision is made, to discuss your views on mitigations.

4. Decision by Responsible Ministers: Responsible ministers must be confident that any potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights will be mitigated or accommodated before a decision is made. Your input on the recommendation is important for the GNWT and Canada.
5. Follow-up and Reasons for Decision by Ministers: Once the decision has been made, we will again write to you. This letter will respond to any concerns that you raised in response to the letter that the GNWT and Canada send you after the Report. The letter will also provide reasons for the decision made by the responsible ministers.

Encouragement for participating in the environmental assessment

The GNWT and Canada respectfully encourage you to actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process for Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed project. To support meaningful and informed participation in the environmental assessment of the Project, Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada has provided multiyear funding to 12 recipients who were approved through the proposal-based Northern Participant Funding Program. The GNWT's Department of Environmental and Natural Resources also provides more general funding to qualifying applicants that can be used to help participate in the environmental assessment process through the Interim Resource Management Assistance program.

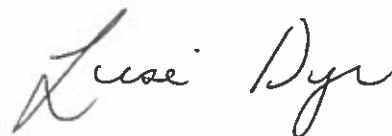

It is our hope that you will provide the Review Board with all the information it will need to assess the Project, and how the Project might potentially adversely impact your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights and interests.

For any questions or clarification regarding this letter, please reach out to Aswathy Mary Varghese, Project Assessment Analyst, GNWT at 867-767-9180 ext. 24024 or ash_varghese@gov.nt.ca, or Katie Bakker, Project Manager, Canada at 867-765-8057 or Kaitlyn.Bakker2@canada.ca.

Sincerely,

Lorraine Seale
Director, Securities and Project Assessment
Lands
Government of the Northwest Territories

Lisa Dyer
Director General
Northern Projects Management Office
Government of Canada

c. Distribution List

Honourable Caroline Cochrane
Premier

Shaleen Woodward
Principal Secretary

Martin Goldney
Secretary to Cabinet/Deputy Minister
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Jamie Koe
Deputy Minister
Lands

Shawn McCann
Deputy Secretary, Indigenous and Intergovernmental Affairs
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Glenn Bourke
Chief Executive Officer
Smith's Landing First Nation

Becky Kostka
Land and Resource Manager
Smith's Landing First Nation

JoAnne Deneron
Chairperson
Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board

Jeff Hussey
President and COO
Pine Point Mining Ltd. and Osisko Metals

Joanna Ankersmit
Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Tom Hoggarth
Director General
Fisheries and Oceans Canada

Mary Taylor
Director General, Environmental Protection Operations Directorate
Environment and Climate Change Canada

Rinaldo Jeanty
Director General
Natural Resources Canada

Jonah Mitchell
Field Unit Superintendent
Southwest NWT Field Unit

Anita Gudmundson
Regional Manager, Environmental Programs
Transport Canada

Matthew Spence
Regional Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Brenda Woo
Regional Manager, Environmental Health Program
Health Canada

March 9, 2022

Chief David Poitras
Salt River First Nation #195
P.O. BOX 960
FORT SMITH NT X0E 0P0

Dear Chief Poitras:

Governments' approach to Aboriginal consultation
for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine

The Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) and the Government of Canada (Canada) are writing to clarify how we are discharging the duty to consult for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine (Project). The Project is currently undergoing an environmental assessment by the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (Review Board). This letter is in follow-up to the letters that the GNWT and Canada sent you on February 5, 2021.

The GNWT and Canada relies on the Review Board process – we would like to hear from you

The GNWT and Canada generally do not carry out separate consultation activities while an environmental assessment is ongoing – we rely on the Review Board's process.

One of the reasons the GNWT and Canada do not carry out consultation separate from the Review Board's process is because the Review Board's co-management process is designed to support your participation and the participation of other potentially affected Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. There are multiple opportunities during the environmental assessment for you to provide your insights and knowledge regarding the potential impacts of the Project, including potential adverse impacts to your asserted or established Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. The scope of the Review Board's assessment is broad, and includes consideration of:

- The well-being of communities and residents in the Mackenzie Valley;
- The well-being and way of life of Indigenous peoples; and
- The concerns of Indigenous peoples and the public.

When you describe potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights to the Review Board, the Review Board considers them in their assessment of potential project impacts. If the Review Board concludes that there will likely be a significant adverse impact on the environment without mitigation, the Review Board will identify measures to mitigate those impacts. The GNWT and Canada, through their participation in the Review Board's process, first hears and tracks any concerns you raise.

The GNWT and Canada then assess the adequacy of the proposed mitigations. The assessment is to determine if the GNWT and Canada believes the duty to consult has been discharged prior to the governments' decision on the Project.

GNWT and Canada's participation in the Review Board process

Both the GNWT and Canada actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process. We participate for two main reasons: to provide expert technical advice, and to understand your issues and concerns. The Review Board's process provides the GNWT and Canada with opportunities to consider information related to Indigenous peoples' concerns and potential adverse impacts to Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. Specifically, we are looking for you to:

1. Provide evidence to the Review Board, including Indigenous and Traditional Knowledge, that describes any potential adverse impacts from the Project that you believe are important for the Review Board, the GNWT, Canada, and the developer to hear.
2. Indicate whether you believe those impacts will affect your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, including:
 - a. The Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights that may be impacted;
 - b. The potential adverse impacts of the Project on those Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights; and,
 - c. Any mitigations you can suggest to address those potential adverse impacts.

Aboriginal consultation and government decision making – how we use what we hear

From the start of an environmental assessment to a decision regarding the Review Board's recommendation by the responsible ministers, the steps the GNWT and Canada take for Aboriginal consultation typically include:

1. Notification Letter: Sending Aboriginal consultation notification letters to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations, encouraging you to participate in the Review Board's process.
2. Tracking and Assessing Indigenous Concerns: Throughout the process, the GNWT and Canada listen to and track concerns raised by Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. We track these concerns so that we can assess whether we are confident the commitments from the developer, mitigative measures recommended by the Review Board, and existing government programs address the potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. We complete this assessment before any decision is made by responsible ministers.
3. Request Input on Recommendation: After the Review Board releases its Report of Environmental Assessment and Reasons for Decision (the Report) (but before a decision is made), we again reach out to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations via a letter. This letter requests your views on the potential adverse impacts of the Project on your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, after the implementation of mitigations included in the Report. Your response to our letters, help inform us. There is also the ability for you to meet with government before the decision is made, to discuss your views on mitigations.

4. Decision by Responsible Ministers: Responsible ministers must be confident that any potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights will be mitigated or accommodated before a decision is made. Your input on the recommendation is important for the GNWT and Canada.
5. Follow-up and Reasons for Decision by Ministers: Once the decision has been made, we will again write to you. This letter will respond to any concerns that you raised in response to the letter that the GNWT and Canada send you after the Report. The letter will also provide reasons for the decision made by the responsible ministers.

Encouragement for participating in the environmental assessment

The GNWT and Canada respectfully encourage you to actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process for Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed project. To support meaningful and informed participation in the environmental assessment of the Project, Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada has provided multiyear funding to 12 recipients who were approved through the proposal-based Northern Participant Funding Program. The GNWT's Department of Environmental and Natural Resources also provides more general funding to qualifying applicants that can be used to help participate in the environmental assessment process through the Interim Resource Management Assistance program.

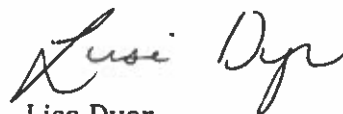

It is our hope that you will provide the Review Board with all the information it will need to assess the Project, and how the Project might potentially adversely impact your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights and interests.

For any questions or clarification regarding this letter, please reach out to Aswathy Mary Varghese, Project Assessment Analyst, GNWT at 867-767-9180 ext. 24024 or ash_varghese@gov.nt.ca, or Katie Bakker, Project Manager, Canada at 867-765-8057 or Kaitlyn.Bakker2@canada.ca.

Sincerely,

Lorraine Seale
Director, Securities and Project Assessment
Lands
Government of the Northwest Territories

Lisa Dyer
Director General
Northern Projects Management Office
Government of Canada

c. Distribution List

Honourable Caroline Cochrane
Premier

Shaleen Woodward
Principal Secretary

Jamie Koe
Deputy Minister
Lands

Martin Goldney
Secretary to Cabinet/Deputy Minister
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Shawn McCann
Deputy Secretary, Indigenous and Intergovernmental Affairs
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Jeff Fraser
Acting Chief Executive Officer
Salt River First Nation #195

JoAnne Deneron
Chairperson
Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board

Jeff Hussey
President and COO
Pine Point Mining Ltd. and Osisko Metals

Joanna Ankersmit
Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Matthew Spence
Regional Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Tom Hoggarth
Director General
Fisheries and Oceans Canada

Mary Taylor
Director General, Environmental Protection Operations Directorate
Environment and Climate Change Canada

Rinaldo Jeanty
Director General
Natural Resources Canada

Jonah Mitchell
Field Unit Superintendent, Southwest NWT Field Unit
Parks Canada

Anita Champagne-Gudmundson
Regional Manager, Environmental Programs
Transport Canada

Brenda Woo
Regional Manager, Environmental Health Program
Health Canada

March 9, 2022

Vice-President Marc Whitford
North Slave Métis Alliance
P.O. BOX 2301
YELLOWKNIFE NT X1A 2P7

Dear Vice-President Whitford:

Governments' approach to Aboriginal consultation
for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine

The Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) and the Government of Canada (Canada) are writing to clarify how we are discharging the duty to consult for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine (Project). The Project is currently undergoing an environmental assessment by the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (Review Board). This letter is in follow-up to the letters that the GNWT and Canada sent you on February 5, 2021.

The GNWT and Canada relies on the Review Board process – we would like to hear from you
The GNWT and Canada generally do not carry out separate consultation activities while an environmental assessment is ongoing – we rely on the Review Board's process.

One of the reasons the GNWT and Canada do not carry out consultation separate from the Review Board's process is because the Review Board's co-management process is designed to support your participation and the participation of other potentially affected Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. There are multiple opportunities during the environmental assessment for you to provide your insights and knowledge regarding the potential impacts of the Project, including potential adverse impacts to your asserted or established Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. The scope of the Review Board's assessment is broad, and includes consideration of:

- The well-being of communities and residents in the Mackenzie Valley;
- The well-being and way of life of Indigenous peoples; and
- The concerns of Indigenous peoples and the public.

When you describe potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights to the Review Board, the Review Board considers them in their assessment of potential project impacts. If the Review Board concludes that there will likely be a significant adverse impact on the environment without mitigation, the Review Board will identify measures to mitigate those impacts. The GNWT and Canada, through their participation in the Review Board's process, first hears and tracks any concerns you raise. The GNWT and Canada then assess the adequacy of the proposed mitigations. The assessment is to determine if the GNWT and Canada believes the duty to consult has been discharged prior to the governments' decision on the Project.

GNWT and Canada's participation in the Review Board process

Both the GNWT and Canada actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process. We participate for two main reasons: to provide expert technical advice, and to understand your issues and concerns. The Review Board's process provides the GNWT and Canada with opportunities to consider information related to Indigenous peoples' concerns and potential adverse impacts to Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights. Specifically, we are looking for you to:

1. Provide evidence to the Review Board, including Indigenous and Traditional Knowledge, that describes any potential adverse impacts from the Project that you believe are important for the Review Board, the GNWT, Canada, and the developer to hear.
2. Indicate whether you believe those impacts will affect your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, including:
 - a. The Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights that may be impacted;
 - b. The potential adverse impacts of the Project on those Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights; and,
 - c. Any mitigations you can suggest to address those potential adverse impacts.

Aboriginal consultation and government decision making – how we use what we hear

From the start of an environmental assessment to a decision regarding the Review Board's recommendation by the responsible ministers, the steps the GNWT and Canada take for Aboriginal consultation typically include:

1. Notification Letter: Sending Aboriginal consultation notification letters to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations, encouraging you to participate in the Review Board's process.
2. Tracking and Assessing Indigenous Concerns: Throughout the process, the GNWT and Canada listen to and track concerns raised by Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. We track these concerns so that we can assess whether we are confident the commitments from the developer, mitigative measures recommended by the Review Board, and existing government programs address the potential adverse impacts to your rights. We complete this assessment before any decision is made by responsible ministers.
3. Request Input on Recommendation: After the Review Board releases its Report of Environmental Assessment and Reasons for Decision (the Report) (but before a decision is made), we again reach out to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations via a letter. This letter requests your views on the potential adverse impacts of the Project on your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, after the implementation of mitigations included in the Report. Your response to our letters, help inform us. There is also the ability for you to meet with government before the decision is made, to discuss your views on mitigations.
4. Decision by Responsible Ministers: Responsible ministers must be confident that any potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights will be mitigated or accommodated before a decision is made. Your input on the recommendation is important for the GNWT and Canada.

5. Follow-up and Reasons for Decision by Ministers: Once the decision has been made, we will again write to you. This letter will respond to any concerns that you raised in response to the letter that the GNWT and Canada send you after the Report. The letter will also provide reasons for the decision made by the responsible ministers.

Encouragement for participating in the environmental assessment

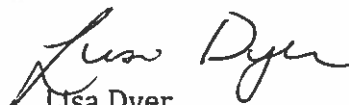

The GNWT and Canada respectfully encourage you to actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process for Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed project. To support meaningful and informed participation in the environmental assessment of the Project, Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada has provided multiyear funding to 12 recipients who were approved through the proposal-based Northern Participant Funding Program. The GNWT's Department of Environmental and Natural Resources also provides more general funding to qualifying applicants that can be used to help participate in the environmental assessment process through the Interim Resource Management Assistance program. It is our hope that you will provide the Review Board with all the information it will need to assess the Project, and how the Project might potentially adversely impact your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights and interests.

For any questions or clarification regarding this letter, please reach out to Aswathy Mary Varghese Project Assessment Analyst, GNWT at 867-767-9180 ext. 24024 or ash_varghese@gov.nt.ca, or Katie Bakker Project Manager, Canada at 867-765-8057 or Kaitlyn.Bakker2@canada.ca.

Sincerely,

Lorraine Seale
Director, Securities and Project Assessment
Lands
Government of the Northwest Territories

Lisa Dyer
Director General
Northern Projects Management Office
Government of Canada

c. Distribution List

Honourable Caroline Cochrane
Premier

Shaleen Woodward
Principal Secretary

Martin Goldney
Secretary to Cabinet/Deputy Minister
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Jamie Koe
Deputy Minister
Lands

Shawn McCann
Deputy Secretary, Indigenous and Intergovernmental Affairs
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Debra Young
Administrative assistant
North Slave Métis Alliance

Joanna Ankersmit
Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Matthew Spence
Regional Director General
Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Tom Hoggarth
Director General
Fisheries and Oceans Canada

Mary Taylor
Director General, Environmental Protection Operations Directorate
Environment and Climate Change Canada

Rinaldo Jeanty
Director General
Natural Resources Canada

JoAnne Deneron
Chairperson
Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board

Jeff Hussey
President and COO
Pine Point Mining Ltd. and Osisko Metals

Jonah Mitchell
Field Unit Superintendent
Southwest NWT Field Unit

Anita Champagne-Gudmundson
Regional Manager, Environmental Programs
Transport Canada

Brenda Woo
Regional Manager, Environmental Health Program
Health Canada

March 10, 2022

Chief James Ahnassay
Dene Tha' First Nation
P.O. BOX 120
CHATEH AB TOH 0S0

Dear Chief Ahnassay:

Governments' approach to Aboriginal consultation
for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine

The Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) and the Government of Canada (Canada) are writing to clarify how we are discharging the duty to consult for the environmental assessment of Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed Pine Point Mine (Project). The Project is currently undergoing an environmental assessment by the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (Review Board). This letter is in follow-up to the letters that the GNWT and Canada sent you on February 5, 2021.

The GNWT and Canada relies on the Review Board process – we would like to hear from you

The GNWT and Canada generally do not carry out separate consultation activities while an environmental assessment is ongoing – we rely on the Review Board's process.

One of the reasons the GNWT and Canada do not carry out consultation separate from the Review Board's process is because the Review Board's co-management process is designed to support your participation and the participation of other potentially affected Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. There are multiple opportunities during the environmental assessment for you to provide your insights and knowledge regarding the potential impacts of the Project, including potential adverse impacts to your asserted or established Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights.

The scope of the Review Board's assessment is broad, and includes consideration of:

- The well-being of communities and residents in the Mackenzie Valley;
- The well-being and way of life of Indigenous peoples; and
- The concerns of Indigenous peoples and the public.

When you describe potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights to the Review Board, the Review Board considers them in their assessment of potential project impacts. If the Review Board concludes that there will likely be a significant adverse impact on the environment without mitigation, the Review Board will identify measures to mitigate those impacts. The GNWT and Canada, through their participation in the Review Board's process, first hears and tracks any concerns you raise. The GNWT and Canada then assess the adequacy of the proposed mitigations. The assessment is to determine if the GNWT and Canada believes the duty to consult has been discharged prior to the governments' decision on the Project.

GNWT and Canada's participation in the Review Board process

Both the GNWT and Canada actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process. We participate for two main reasons: to provide expert technical advice, and to understand your issues and concerns. The Review Board's process provides the GNWT and Canada with opportunities to consider information related to Indigenous peoples' concerns and potential adverse impacts to Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights. Specifically, we are looking for you to:

1. Provide evidence to the Review Board, including Indigenous and Traditional Knowledge, that describes any potential adverse impacts from the Project that you believe are important for the Review Board, the GNWT, Canada, and the developer to hear.
2. Indicate whether you believe those impacts will affect your Aboriginal and/or Treaty Rights, including:
 - a. The Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights that may be impacted;
 - b. The potential adverse impacts of the Project on those Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights; and,
 - c. Any mitigations you can suggest to address those potential adverse impacts.

Aboriginal consultation and government decision making – how we use what we hear

From the start of an environmental assessment to a decision regarding the Review Board's recommendation by the responsible ministers, the steps the GNWT and Canada take for Aboriginal consultation typically include:

1. Notification Letter: Sending Aboriginal consultation notification letters to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations, encouraging you to participate in the Review Board's process.
2. Tracking and Assessing Indigenous Concerns: Throughout the process, the GNWT and Canada listen to and track concerns raised by Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations. We track these concerns so that we can assess whether we are confident the commitments from the developer, mitigative measures recommended by the Review Board, and existing government programs address the potential adverse impacts to your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights. We complete this assessment before any decision is made by responsible ministers.

3. Request Input on Recommendation: After the Review Board releases its Report of Environmental Assessment and Reasons for Decision (Report) (but before a decision is made), we again reach out to you and other Indigenous governments and Indigenous organizations via a letter. This letter requests your views on the potential adverse impacts of the Project on your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights, after the implementation of mitigations included in the Report. Your response to our letters, help inform us. There is also the ability for you to meet with government before the decision is made, to discuss your views on mitigations.
4. Decision by Responsible Ministers: Responsible ministers must be confident that any potential adverse impacts to Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights will be mitigated or accommodated before a decision is made. Your input on the recommendation is important for the GNWT and Canada.
5. Follow-up and Reasons for Decision by Ministers: Once the decision has been made, we will again write to you. This letter will respond to any concerns that you raised in response to the letter that the GNWT and Canada send you after the Report. The letter will also provide reasons for the decision made by the responsible ministers.

Encouragement for participating in the environmental assessment

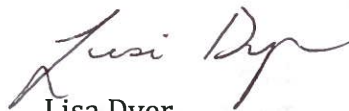

The GNWT and Canada respectfully encourage you to actively participate in the Review Board's environmental assessment process for Pine Point Mining Ltd.'s proposed project. To support meaningful and informed participation in the environmental assessment of the Project, Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada has provided multiyear funding to 12 recipients who were approved through the proposal-based Northern Participant Funding Program. The GNWT's Department of Environmental and Natural Resources also provides more general funding to qualifying applicants that can be used to help participate in the environmental assessment process through the Interim Resource Management Assistance program. It is our hope that you will provide the Review Board with all the information it will need to assess the Project, and how the Project might potentially adversely impact your Aboriginal and/or Treaty rights and interests.

For any questions or clarification regarding this letter, please reach out to Aswathy Mary Varghese, Project Assessment Analyst, GNWT at 867-767-9180 ext. 24024 or ash_varghese@gov.nt.ca, or Katie Bakker Project Manager, Canada at 867-765-8057 or Kaitlyn.Bakker2@canada.ca.

Sincerely,

Lorraine Seale
Director, Securities and Project Assessment
Lands
Government of the Northwest Territories

Lisa Dyer
Director General
Northern Projects Management Office
Government of Canada

c. Distribution List

Honourable Caroline Cochrane
Premier

Shaleen Woodward
Principal Secretary

Martin Goldney
Secretary to Cabinet/Deputy Minister
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Jamie Koe
Deputy Minister
Lands

Shawn McCann
Deputy Secretary, Indigenous and Intergovernmental Affairs
Executive and Indigenous Affairs

Holly Brewster
Executive Assistant
Dene Tha First Nation

Joanna Ankersmit
Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Mary Taylor
Director General, Environmental Protection Operations Directorate
Environment and Climate Change Canada

Tom Hoggarth
Director General
Fisheries and Oceans Canada

Rinaldo Jeanty
Director General
Natural Resources Canada

Anita Champagne-Gudmundson
Regional Manager, Environmental Programs
Transport Canada

Matthew Spence
Regional Director General
Crown Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs Canada

Brenda Woo
Regional Manager, Environmental Health Program
Health Canada

JoAnne Deneron
Chairperson
Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board

Jeff Hussey
President and COO
Pine Point Mining Ltd. and Osisko Metals

Jonah Mitchell
Field Unit Superintendent, Southwest NWT Field Unit
Parks Canada

